

NCKU Rules of Computer-selected Course Enrollment

Registration for preferred courses for computer-selected enrollment shall be administered according to the NCKU Rules of Computer-selected Course Enrollment. The results of each stage will be published on the link of Latest News at the homepage of the NCKU Course Information & Enrollment System. A computer-selected course enrollment will be automatically processed into the “My course schedule” of each enrolled student.

Second Stage of Course Enrollment

Registration by new students (excluding reenrolling students) admitted in the fall semester of the current academic year

1. Please refer to the NCKU Course Catalog for your department code and course serial numbers to register for preferred courses in the categories of General Education (A9, required), General Chinese (A7, required) and Military Training (A3, elective, and 0 credit) for computer-selected enrollment.
2. A 15% elective course enrollment rate for Second Foreign Language courses will be reserved for new students registering for preferred courses in the second stage.
3. Students are required to log in the course enrollment system to register for preferred courses for computer-selected enrollment. Please do not register for the same course repeatedly on your list of preferences.
4. Registration of a preferred course is allowed even if its enrollment quota is filled. Following registration, the system will process a random computer selection of a maximum of one course enrollment in each category for each student.

A9 General Education

Registration by continuing students of undergraduate programs

1. No registration for any previously-completed course is allowed. Any repeated course registration will be invalid, and any such enrollment will result in no credits completed.
2. Following registration, the system will process a computer selection with first priority for course enrollment given to those who have failed to enroll in a maximum of one GE course as a result of the first stage of course enrollment.
3. The system will process a computer selection based on weighted average with second priority for course enrollment given to upper class students. A random selection will be processed for those with the same weighted average.
4. Each student will be allowed a maximum enrollment of three courses (including a GE course selected in the first stage) selected from the list of preferences during this stage.

A1 Second Foreign Language (Course Serial No.: 501~700)

Registration by all students of undergraduate programs for the spring semester

A random computer selection will result in a maximum of one course enrollment for each student. Please do not register for the same course repeatedly on your list of preferences.

A7 General Chinese

Registration by continuing students of undergraduate programs

Those who have not completed 4 credits are allowed to register during the designated stage of course enrollment. A random computer selection based on weighted average will result in a maximum of one course enrollment for each student. Please do not register for the same course repeatedly on your list of preferences.

Third Stage of Course Enrollment

Registration by all students

A1 English Modules (Course Serial No.: 101~500)

Registration by all students of undergraduate programs in the fall semester

Students are allowed to register during the designated stage of course enrollment. Priority for computer-selected course enrollment will be given to freshman students, followed by a random computer selection for other students with a maximum of one course enrollment for each student. Please do not register for the same course repeatedly on your list of preferences.

A9 General Education Courses

1. General Education courses are open for students to drop during this period. Those who intend to add a General Education course shall register for computer-selected enrollment.
2. Students can fill in the number of intended courses to be selected. No repeated registration either for the same course or for the same preference order is allowed.
3. No registration for any previously-completed course is allowed. Any repeated course registration will be invalid and any such enrollment will result in no credits completed.
4. Registration for preferred courses is allowed even the quota is filled. However, registration will be invalid if class scheduling conflict arises between a preferred course and any course on personal class schedule.
5. Should class scheduling conflict arise between registered courses on the preference list, the system is programmed with priority for computer-selected enrollment given to students registering for any preferred courses that remain to be filled, in order of their priority preference. Any registration of other preferred courses will be invalid should class scheduling conflict arise from a computer-selected course enrollment. A student is required to apply for withdrawal from an unwanted computer-selected GE course.
6. Upon completion of the registration, priority for computer-selected enrollment will be given to undergraduate students who have failed to enroll in any (A9) General Education course as a result of their previous registrations, followed by a random computer selection. Students may enroll in GE courses through a computer-selected enrollment to a maximum of the intended number with a maximum course enrollment of 25 credits.
